Tips for preparing an application

- Speak with Creative Victoria's Strategic Marketing team to discuss your idea and ensure it addresses the program aims and selection criteria.
- Use the Audience Research Toolkit located at <https://creative.vic.gov.au/resources/toolkit> to better understand your current audience and opportunities to build new audiences. The kit is free and includes tips and 'how to' guides and templates to undertake surveys, run interviews, analyse audience data and write reports to help discover fresh insights into your potential markets and audiences.
- Creative Victoria participated in the global COVID-19 Outlook Monitor Research conducted to understand how audiences feel about engaging with and returning to creative events and venues in light of the pandemic. The study explores measures that would make audiences feel more comfortable about returning. The study is published at <https://creative.vic.gov.au/research/reports/audience-outlook-monitor-report>.
- We encourage you to draft your application using the available drafting tools in advance of submitting your application online. Templates and drafting tools are available to download via the Building Audiences Fund page.

- Plan your budget carefully considering all elements of the proposed activity.
- Create a project timeline.

- Ensure you answer all the questions clearly and keep your responses succinct (3,000 characters – including spaces per question).
